

SPX Firm Acronym Appointment - Update

Overview

As a precaution due to market volatility, the SPX Firm Acronym (SFA) new functionality scheduled for February 5th has been delayed until February 12th. Please refer to the notice published earlier this week for details on the change.

Additional Information

Questions may be directed to Trading System Development (TSD). Questions regarding appointments may be directed to Registration Services. For additional information regarding operational matters, please contact the Operations Support Center.

We appreciate your continued support and will work hard every day to keep earning your business by powering your potential to stay ahead of an evolving market. As always, we are committed to our customers and to making markets better as your partner in trading.
